

TEN DAYS FOR SPELL BINDERS

Primary Day Will Decide Many Important Questions As To State Politics.

DAVIDSON, LENROOT OR DEMOCRAT

La Follette Busy Seeking Votes For His Man-Davidson Touring State In Auto-Democrats Still Scrapping Merrily.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., Aug. 24.—With the primaries but ten days off, La Follette in the Norwegian country begging votes for Lenroot the Swede from his racial enemies, Lenroot at Antigo asking the democrats to aid him in his fight for governorship, Governor Davidson at Watlington explaining that he is a good business man for the job, Connor at Appleton expressing great hope for the Davidson ticket and stringing the wires closer and better, Gaylord the social democratic candidate planning for a whirlwind tour of the state including a stop at Janesville September 9, Aylward and Merton pouring hot shot into each other at different points of vantage, the fight for the state governorship is becoming, to say the least, interesting.

La Follette Busy. Senator La Follette appears to be the busiest of all the stump-orators who are scattered throughout the state. He does more than any other two men and appears to be standing the strain better than any of them. Night and day he continues his fight for his henchman, Lenroot, with a determination that bodes ill for those who oppose him. But if the truth be known La Follette is on the defensive. For the first time in the history of his campaigns he is explaining things. He makes bold assertions, it is true but he is defending his position of a federal office holder taking the stump in a state campaign in direct opposition to his attitude on this question two years ago. His work among the Norwegians, his old followers, always to be depended upon to turn their votes to Lenroot, a Swede, is not meeting with the success he anticipated. He is finding a strong Davidson sentiment wherever he goes. He can denounce party harmony as he did yesterday at New Lisbon, but the idea that the fight has been already drawn out too far and long is prevalent everywhere he speaks.

Meets Rebels. La Follette has found that many of his former strongest followers are with Davidson. Not only with Davidson heart and soul but repudiating his efforts to bring them back into the fold of the faithful followers. They attend his meeting, but in many cases wear Davidson-Connor buttons, as they did at Neillsville yesterday. Huge Davidson-Connor banners greet his eyes as he goes down the streets of the cities he is to speak in and what makes him more discouraged and more vindictive than ever, he sees the erstwhile followers confabulating with men who have opposed him during his long public career in Wisconsin, the stalwarts.

Davidson Busy. Governor James Davidson is not a public speaker of any note. No one has ever claimed anything more than a good first class business man with a head for handling the state affairs in the best possible manner. He is a pleasant man to meet, he remembers faces and names and has a cheery greeting for all. He has made the state affairs first, his campaigning for governor secondly in his daily routine. It was with difficulty that he could be induced to start out on his present tour. In fact he started a day late of scheduled time because he had not finished some state work. He is a strong virile man and is making a fight that promises to be successful. Here at Madison the sympathy is all with him and his friends from all over the state have poured in advice and offers of help until his clerks are almost swamped handling the replies.

Begin Work. One sensation this week is the fact that Charles H. Phillips of Milwaukee, who served in the secretary of state's office under the Peck administration is now making a thorough inspection of the books of the secretary of state's office for the democratic investigation committee. The facts as he finds them will be part of the campaign after the primaries. Secretary Houser has taken in his high and lofty standard and allowed the work to be begun without his personal supervision. Speaking of the secretary of state's proposition the battle here in the republican ranks is interesting. From the present stand former Secretary Froelich appears to have the best of the argument with Houser and Frear trailing. This contest is amusing to watch and the outcome will be interesting to note as if either Frear or Houser are successful the internal fight in the La Follette faction will be redoubled as there is the bitterest kind of feeling in this matter.

BIG DEMONSTRATION FOR DAVIDSON AT LANCASTER

Citizens Turned Out With Band And Street Procession In The Early Morning.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Lancaster, Wis., Aug. 24.—The big meeting at Platteville last night, at which Governor Davidson and Frank W. Hall spoke told on the governor's strength so much that Hall was taken along to do the balance of the speaking. Notwithstanding this the well-filled open house at Lancaster insisted upon hearing the Governor. So heartily was the reception at this place, the county seat of Grant county, that the governor was detained two hours after he was scheduled to depart. There is no disputing the signs that the southwestern part of the state is Davidson's stronghold. Lancaster was out in force, even though it was early morning when the governor arrived. A band and street procession turned out and the natives insisted on getting a picture taken of the executive party.

STATE NOTES. State Commissioner of Banking M. C. Bergh has issued a charter to the State Bank of Hazel Green. The capital stock is $10,000. John Birkett is president and R. M. Orchard cashier of the new institution. Mrs. Harriet Gulon Gray, widow of the Rev. Albert Zabriskie Gray, a former warden of Racine college, died on Wednesday at Glen Lord, Ill. Mrs. Gray had spent much of her time in Kenosha since the death of her husband, many years ago. The annual state conference and camp meeting of the Seventh Day Adventist church in Wisconsin convened at Stevens Point on Thursday. Over 1,000 persons are in attendance. Many prominent speakers of national reputation in that church are present. Ferena McGrath, residing several miles north of Grand Rapids with her son, Thomas McGrath, committed suicide by drowning in the Wisconsin river. Inability to get relief from rheumatism, from which she had been suffering for many years, is assigned as the cause. The body of Joseph Decaster, a one armed bridge tender of Green Bay, was taken from the Fox river Thursday afternoon. Decaster disappeared Wednesday morning and it was reported that his disappearance followed a domestic quarrel. It is believed at Green Bay that the committed suicide.

ARMY TO HAVE BEST HOSPITAL IN WORLD

War Department Will Build Large General Institute Near the National Capital.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Washington, D. C., Aug. 24.—The War Department is preparing to build near Washington a large army general hospital, which will be the best equipped institution of its kind in the world. For months the army surgeons have been engaged in looking up literature on the subject and inspecting hospitals in all parts of the country. They have also obtained much information from abroad. The best ideas which prevail anywhere will be used in the new hospital, which will cost about a half million dollars to build and equip. To this institution army officers and enlisted men from all parts of the country and the Philippines will be sent when they are in need of special treatment.

HAD FUN WITH THE NIGHT PATROLMEN

Two Jackson Club Members Made Suspicious Overtures to Sell Team Horses For Song This Morning.

Only meager details could be obtained today concerning two suspected horse thieves who are alleged to have given Officers Patrick Manning and William Mason a merry chase on the main traveled thoroughfares at the early hour of three this morning. It is known, however, that the suspects were members in good standing of the Jackson club and that with hats pulled down over their eyes they stopped a wayfarer near the Hayes block and tried to sell him a fine team of horses they had secured out in the country for the paltry sum of $50. They refused to buy and called upon the police station as soon as they ceased their importunities and he had directed them to the secluded horse trading station on the outskirts of the city which they had inquired for.

THOUSANDS TO WELCOME BRYAN ON HIS RETURN

Great Preparations For Demonstration In New York. Boom For Presidency Has Been Healthy.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] New York, August 24.—If reports received by the local committee in charge of the arrangements for the reception of William J. Bryan when he arrives here next week are to be relied upon there is going to be an enormous crowd in the metropolis to greet the Nebraska leader. Advances are being received daily to the effect that this or that state contemplates sending a delegation of 100, 200 and even 500 to New York for the occasion. In addition to the regular delegations there doubtless will be a host of other visitors. Thousands with no interest whatever in the Bryan homecoming probably will take advantage of the low excursion rates to make a trip to New York. However, the week's event to the great welcome given to Admiral Dewey on his return home after the battle of Manila Bay. Quite naturally the republicans do not share this idea of the Bryan welcome.

Republican leaders declare that the Bryan world-tour, the welcome-home and everything connected with the trip, even to Mr. Bryan's utterances and interviews abroad, were carefully planned by the Nebraska's friends, shortly after the defeat of the Parker and Davis ticket in the election of 1904. If this be true even the republicans cannot deny that the plans were well laid. Mr. Bryan arrives home to find that he is practically the only man talked of for the democratic presidential nomination. Six months ago Mayor George B. McClellan of this city, Senator Bailey of Texas, John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, William R. Hearst and one or two others were seriously mentioned in connection with the democratic nomination. Today all have dropped from sight so far as the presidency is concerned, with the possible exception of Mr. Hearst. And even the latter declares that he is not seeking the nomination. Mr. Bryan apparently is left in full possession of the field.

In the numerous states where the democrats have held their state conventions during the past few months many of them have given Mr. Bryan enthusiastic endorsement for the presidency. None has gone on record as opposed to his candidacy. These endorsements have not been confined to those states of the middle west or far west, where the Bryan strength heretofore has always been most in evidence. The democratic state convention in Pennsylvania hailed Mr. Bryan as the "great democratic" commoner, who is now regarded as "the certain successor of Theodore Roosevelt to the presidency." Thus the democrats of the Keystone State rivalled the eulogistic endorsement of Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 24.—Everything is in readiness for the departure of the Nebraska party which is going to New York to escort William J. Bryan home. The party will travel by special train, leaving this city over the Chicago & Great Western road. The party is made up of representative democratic leaders from all parts of Nebraska, and includes the mayors of half a dozen cities. The train is made up of President Slick's luxurious private car, "Twilight," and several standard Pullman cars.

MORE DETAILS OF
TABASCO CONCERNNEW FRAUDS ARE CHARGED
AGAINST THE PROMOTERS.

CHICAGO DETECTIVES OUT

May Have Been Spite Work, According to the Attorneys for Bushnell.

This morning's Chicago papers give additional details of the arrest of the President and Vice President of the Tabasco-Chiapas Trading and Transportation company. The Government officers and the city detectives of Chicago appear to implicate these two men only in what is termed a gigantic scheme to defraud investors. The directors of the company and of the concerns alleged to be allied with it appear to be considered as the dupes of the two clever men who were arrested day before yesterday. The statement given out last evening by the attorney for Bushnell and Miller, however, is almost a direct replica of the one published yesterday from E. F. Carpenter of this city, who is a director in the Tabasco company, in which much Janesville capital is interested. Mr. Carpenter, it will be remembered, said that the Tabasco company was not interested in any plantations; coffee or rubber, and it appears to be the coffee scheme, the L. M. de la Mills concern, that has caused all the trouble. Mr. Bushnell and Mr. Miller were held under $2,000 bonds each for appearance on August 31. An attempt is also made by some of the Chicago papers to implicate in the Wisconsin Rubber Company in the same difficulty, but any connection with the other concerns is denied by officers of this company, of which Rasmus B. Anderson of Madison is President.

Is Denied
Merriell & Hutton, the fiscal agents who sold the majority of the stock in Janesville, Madison and Racine, made a statement from Madison yesterday that the company never made any claims to own land other than the property at Frontera, which was now in operation building ships. Statements were also made that these vessels are now in operation. Directors of the concern all over the country have issued formal denials that the concern was insolvent and despite the claims made by the detectives and federal officers many still believe the affair has been greatly exaggerated. The following is an extract from the second-day story published this morning:

The Plantations
"Plantations existing only in the imagination of the promoters of the concern, coffee grown only in the sacks of the New York importers, are alleged to be the total extent of the assets of the Tabasco-Chiapas company, whose officials were arrested on a charge of fraud and released on bonds of $2,000 today. The concern was called a trading and transportation company, but according to the detectives working on the case the transportation was mostly of the money of the victims into the coffers of the promoters and the trading such as was compulsory, was done with McLoughlin & Co., a New York firm. Neither the province of Tabasco nor the Mexican state of Chiapas entered into the actual business of the concern, so far as could be learned.

The Allegations
"The attorneys for the complainants allege that the Tabasco-Chiapas firm is a stock jobbing concern purely and simply, and that the capitalization, which is alleged to be $1,000,000 and all paid up, is totally imaginary. The postoffice inspectors will be asked to take vigorous measures against the concern, mere fraud orders not being deemed sufficient to get at the bottom of the manipulations of the subscribers' money.

Swindling Schemes
"The most startling development of the day in the case of Henry D. Bushnell and L. H. Miller, president and treasurer, respectively, who have been accused of working a swindling scheme in connection with their interest in the Tabasco-Chiapas concern, given out by Detective C. R. Woodbridge to the effect that these men have recently established a chain of offices over the country for the sole purpose of swindling stock purchasers. Woodbridge asserts that the United States Peat and Fuel company, 134 Monroe street, officiated by H. D. Bushnell, president; John Addison, vice president; M. A. Picorn, treasurer; C. H. Ade, secretary, and J. C. Morrison, consulting engineer, has within a short time incorporated the Imperial Light, Heat and Power company, at Montreal; the Mankato Peat and Fuel company, at Mankato, Minn.; the Boston Fuel company, at Boston, Mass.; the Green River Fuel company, at Green River, Ill., and probably one or two more companies, intended only as concerns in which stock may be sold. In 1905 all this parent company possessed, according to the police, was a small plant under a shed at Twenty-fourth and Wallace streets. This was subsequently moved to Farmington, Canada.

Engage Lawyers
"The law firm of Shope, Mathis, Zane & Weber has been engaged to look after the interests of Bushnell and Miller. Mr. Zane was found at his office yesterday afternoon and readily consented to talk for his clients, and said that they would decline to be interviewed in any event. Mr. Zane said: "This prosecution grows out of a civil action which was brought by A. L. Ensign and a few others representing a small minority of the stock of the Tabasco-Chiapas Trading and Transportation company. They alleged that this company was a stock jobbing concern, and that it was insolvent.

Says Company is Solid
"The complaint was made, and is made now, that the fact is that the company owns the steamboats Lumina, Lotus, Sancher, Marmol, Abraham Bando, Mexcalapa, and Carmen, two steel barges, three wooden barges, one floating steam dredge and pile driver all valued at $221,048, and several smaller boats. At Frontera, Mexico, the company owns a large ship-building plant, with a full equipment in the way of sawmills, machine shops, etc., costing $191,032. Some of the steamships were built at this company's plant. The company owns real estate at Frontera valued at $20,000. The company has in Chicago its coffee plant and did a business of $165,000 in 1905. It has no liabilities whatever. It may owe $1,000 for merchandise. The dividend for 1905, aggregating a little more than $80,000, was not paid in cash, but in stock, for the reason that the company was completing its large shipyard plant at Frontera and invested all its earnings in that plant. "Mr. Zane denied that Mr. Bushnell had left the city for Canada for the purpose of evading any responsibility as an official of the company, and concluded with the statement that the present action was brought by nineteen stockholders only."

Company.

Work of cleaning up the P. Hoenadel, Jr., Canning Factory in Spring Brook has been completed and this week the factory will receive the product in carload lots. It has taken considerable time in getting ready for this year's business, which will be the largest in the history of the company. The machines and vats have been thoroughly overhauled and cleaned and several new machines installed. The sheds have been enlarged and a new warehouse built for the storage of finished goods. Beside other improvements new fire-proof doors have been installed in several places and the floors repaired where necessary. The room in which the tin cans are stored is filled to nearly its capacity and one would think that this number of cans would last for years, but a factory employee said that they would purchase cans again before the season closed. The company by no means depends upon the products of this section for the supplying of the plant and new stations have been built in various sections of the state and neighboring states as well as in southern Canada. The farmers have taken a great interest in the raising of cabbage and sweet corn cucumbers and for this reason the company have several farms of their own on which they are growing corn and pickles to even up the amount necessary to supply their trade. They will receive an unusual amount of sweet corn this fall and the risk will be so great that the factory will undoubtedly be compelled to work overtime in order to keep away in sight of the end of the deliveries of corn made daily. The season opened somewhat earlier than is usual, and the ripening of the corn is more rapid than has usually been the case, and this will probably crowd the storehouses. There is a scarcity of huskers and those engaged at present will undoubtedly put in more hours than usual.

Western Shoe Company
The Western Shoe Company, over the roadway near the Electric Company, has grown considerably since its removal to this city. Their shoes are extensively marketed. The heavy grade manufactured here have been done away with and the shoe put out now is lighter and of a fancier grade. The machines are arranged in rows along the side of the building, leaving the center of the room vacant for racks and other storage, which makes it better for the handling of shoes from one machine to the next and handier for the overseers in their work. Several machines have been installed and it is expected that several more will be purchased in the near future.

Revolutionary Relic.

James R. Putnam, while at work in his garden at Rutland, Vt., picked up a brass button about an inch in diameter. When it was cleaned it was found to be a military button in a good state of preservation. It is flat, with the word "Massachusetts artillery" around the edge of the face. In the center in relief is a cannon mounted on wheels and beside a flag on a staff. The button is a revolutionary relic.

Cigarette Popular in the East.

Says a writer in the Pekin and Tientsin Times: "The cigarette has caught the popular favor in the east and far east, being a smoke seemingly peculiarly adaptable to Asiatics. The long stemmed pipe is giving way everywhere to the cigarette. All classes of Chinese take to it, even rickasha coolies, some brands of the cigarette being so cheap that the beggars in Peking are seen often indulging in a quiet smoke."

This Is Worth Knowing.

It may be useful to know that in case of sudden need, such as often arises in warm weather, a simple form of starching is the use of borax water. A quart of a teaspoonful of borax in half a teacupful of cold water will give a dressing-like new to embroidered cuffs and collars or stocks, even those made of linen. The article should be dipped in the borax water, wrung out and rolled out in a dry cloth for a few moments before ironing.

STATE FISH COACH WAS IN THE CITY

"The Badger" Fully Equipped for Work, Is Yet a Home For the Commissioners.

The state fish commissioner's private car named "The Badger" passed through here this morning to Madison. The car in itself is complete in every detail and every convenience necessary for the carrying of fish and fish preserves is found within it. In the rear is the kitchen which has its ice box, stove and sink the same as any ordinary kitchen. The apartment next to this is used for sleeping car and is arranged the same as any sleeping car. The main section of the car is filled with fish boxes. These line each side and are filled with ice and water. Above these boxes is stored the equipment for handling fish in and out of the car. The front of the car is the living, reading and observation room. The car, though it handles large quantities of fish, is in itself a modern private car home for the commissioner.

PAN-AMERICAN MEET NEAR END.

Business of Meeting Practically Concluded by Delegates to Conference.

Rio de Janeiro, Aug. 24.—The International American congress Thursday concluded its actual work, finally disposing of the projects of sanitation, commercial relations, patents and copyrights, the Pan-American railway and the codification of international laws. The Buchanan report was adopted recommending that the several countries in the conference prepare tables showing the fluctuations of exchange during the last 20 years and the effect thereof on commerce, the idea being to facilitate the establishment of a universal gold basis.

Two more sessions of the conference will be held Sunday and Monday, August 26 and 27, to perfect certain details.

The banquet given by the American delegates to the members of the conference was a brilliant success. In the course of a speech Senator Nabuco, the president of the conference, credited to Mr. Buchanan's tact the fact that no discord had developed in the conference.

TYPHOID FEVER AT THREE OAKS.

Dead Sparrows in Waterworks Standpipe Cause Epidemic in the Town.

Three Oaks, Mich., Aug. 24.—The cause of an epidemic of typhoid fever among the 1,000 inhabitants of this place was discovered Thursday when a member of the board of health climbed to the top of the waterworks standpipe and found the dead bodies of several thousand young sparrows in various stages of decomposition, covering the surface of the water. Immediately the mayor gave instructions to empty the standpipe, scrub and paint it. Hundreds of sparrows' nests have been built on a ledge that runs around the summit of the standpipe and the young birds are supposed to have fallen into the uncovered standpipe while trying to fly.

The cover made for the standpipe when it was constructed was never put on.

There are now twenty-one cases of typhoid fever in the town.

HERO GETS AID FOR COMRADES

Man Fatally Scalded Drops Dead Telling of Condition of Fellow.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 24.—Though fatally scalded by the explosion of several tubes in the boiler house of the Absecon pumping station Thursday, Joseph Medara, one of the firemen employed in the plant, ran a quarter of a mile to the chief engineer's home to procure aid for his two fellow employees whom he believed to have been more seriously injured than himself.

He fell unconscious as he told of the accident and was rushed to a hospital in an automobile where he died in a few hours.

His comrades were only slightly hurt as they did not receive the full force of the escaping steam.

Killed in Mine Explosion.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 24.—An explosion of gas occurred Thursday in No. 9 colliery of the Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal company at Sugar Notch, in which W. A. Vincent, a miner, was killed; his son William was fatally injured and four other men seriously burned.

WEEKLY REPORT ON
VIRGINIA TOBACCO

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., August 23.—Tobacco offerings are light on the Virginia market. A few primings of medium quality of the new crop have been offered on the South Boston, Va., market of late, but the market has not been opened as yet for the 1906 season. The weather is showery with alternate days of hot sunshine, and unless the weather is clear for the next few weeks the crop will generally be of inferior quality in and around South Boston.

At Durham, N. C., the weather is unfavorable for ripening and curing the tobacco. Farmers are cutting and curing in many instances to save much of the tobacco, which is drying up or "firing" very badly. No business is being done on the market as yet.

Small quantities of undesirable tobacco, most of primings of the new crop, have been received on the Richmond market within the last couple of weeks. The tobacco plants in the fields are maturing large and thin on account of the heavy and incessant rains nearly every day for the past several weeks. Unless good weather sets in there is little hope for a good crop. There is a noticeable lack of body to the leaves and sun and dew in plenty is the only thing that can help the crop. Many of the young plants have begun to "fire."

MUCH RAW TOBACCO
YEARLY EXPORTED

Unmanufactured Leaf Holds Twelfth
Place in American Export List.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., August 23.—Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor has prepared a table showing the principal factors in the export trade of the United States during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1906. This table shows that of the thirty-seven leading articles which formed the bulk of the exports in 1906, the exports of unmanufactured tobacco ranked twelfth, they being valued at $28,808,367, as compared to $24,571,362 exported in 1905. Manufactures of tobacco ranked last in this table, the exports in 1906 being valued at $5,410,489 as compared to $4,880,319 in 1905. The total exports of all products from the United States in the fiscal year ended June 30 last were valued at $1,717,953,382, as compared to $963,200,487 in 1905.

The production of tobacco in Persia is estimated by the Department of Agriculture to be about 198,000,000 pounds annually.

Another Slash Into the Profits!

We've cut the profit off of every Piano in our store, and we've done this because we're determined not to pack and pay freight on them back to our headquarters. This all costs money; and rather than do it we are going to give it to our patrons on the price of a piano. You can't afford to let these prices go by, even if all the use you get out of your piano is in ornamenting your home.

materially modified the bill the measure when it became a law was so destructive of American interests and so liberal in the encouragement of foreign competition that imported commodities flooded the markets, while the mills and factories stood idle, and American workmen dined at soup houses in the leading industrial centers of the United States. We do not believe that the people have forgotten these facts.

TO PASTE IN YOUR HAT

Democrats declare that the effect of the present protective tariff system is to minimize exports and close the markets of the world to the United States. Our exports last year totaled the enormous sum of $1,743,763,612, which is almost double what they were in 1896, ten years ago, when the Wilson bill was in operation, and they amounted to $882,006,938, says the Pittsburgh Times.

Democrats also claim that the effect of the Dingley bill is to build a Chinese wall around the United States and shut out foreign goods; which, in the absence of protective rates, would find their way here unhampered. They appear to be coming, anyway. Our imports last year were $1,226,615,379, as against $779,724,674 in 1896.

Democrats are wrong in both contentions. Meanwhile the balance of trade last year in our favor was over $517,000,000, or more than five times as great as the balance in 1896. In exports last year we beat all records by $225,000,000. That's a tariff lesson you should paste in your hat.

The Milwaukee Free Press is after Babcock's scalp. In doing this they are trying their best to help Cooper, but their efforts are so futile that they are not worth considering. It harps on the fact that congress by a majority approved of the Philippine bill and holds this up in vindication of Cooper's vote on that measure. It, however, fails to note that all congressmen were sugar beet or tobacco are grown voted against the measure, the minority that knew how it would affect their constituents' interests.

Uncle Sam and the state authorities of the United States are combining the education of the state militia and the regulars at camps of instruction in different sections of the country. These camps are teaching the volunteer soldiers more respect for the regulars and vice versa. It is a good thing in times of peace to be ready for war and Uncle Sam does not mean to be caught napping again as he was in '98.

Hardly had the failure of the Milwaukee Avenue Bank in Chicago ceased to be a topic for the news-papers before they had a new scandal—this time in Mexican investment schemes. The land of the Montezumas has always been a favorite place to find a buried treasure, since the days of Cortez and his Spanish invaders.

R. M. Bashford, a former strong adherent of Senator La Follette, is to speak at the Opera House here on Tuesday, the 28th. Many who attend the meeting will be glad to hear Davidson's side of the question after having heard Senator La Follette's self-praise and brief mention of Lenroot a week ago.

Davidson talks to the voters in a nice brotherly way and tells them he is a business-man, that the state needs a business-man at the head of affairs. La Follette says that they need a lawyer and other orators say that if this is true then Lenroot is ineligible, for he is merely a court reporter. So the fight goes on.

It seems too bad that in a community like Janesville flat life is becoming so prevalent. If Janesville was larger it might be excused, but that any city of the size should have to resort to close flats this hot weather it is too bad on rising young America.

Congressman Cooper is straining every means in his power to be re-nominated. He is allowing his newspapers to print an unintelligible jargon of the fitness of the Philippine bill in the hopes of blinding the eyes of the farmers to the demerits of that measure.

Beloit is having a rigid inspection of its milk wagons by state inspectors. This is news to many, as many of the Beloit visitors to Janesville would lead the public to believe the name "milk" was unknown as a beverage in the Line City.

Madison has settled down to wait and see who is the next candidate for Governor. Of course official Madison is very much excited, but the general public want the question settled and business resumed.

Former Secretary of State Froelich is looming up in the horizon as a more than possibility in the secretary of state contest. The friction between Frenar and Houser appears to have worked in his favor.

Davidson and his automobile tour prove to be such a success that he is going to continue it until primary day. It is safe to say he will get back in time to vote, however.

Lenroot asks for democratic votes. He would punish the conservatives severely before admitting them to the brotherhood of republicans again.

Whether Lenroot expects to call his victory one of republicanism if he solicits democratic votes or not is hard to say. It is win anyway you can, regardless of methods.

Anyone who says the backbone of summer is broken is mistaken. It has just been reinforced a little and is good for another thirty days.

PRESS COMMENT

Merton and the Tariff
Wausau Herald: If Senator Merton is correctly reported he is a thousand miles from fundamental democratic doctrines on the tariff question.

Good Time to Bleed Kansas
Boston Herald: The state of Kansas reports enough money in bank to give every man, woman and child $100. "Bleeding Kansas" used to be the designation. Why doesn't someone try it?

In Essence Only Delusions
Madison Journal: The Royal Chef comes tonight; hotelkeepers are in session and a national sorority convention is on, but the cook problem will probably remain unsolved for a that.

It MUST Be Warm in Texas
El Paso Herald: No doubt the little, fluffy winged angels are making remarks about reckless balloons drifting around in their environment which are full as bitter as the allegations of mere mortals concerning autos.

Running a Fishy Risk
Evening Wisconsin: The farmer on Lake Koshkonong who has fenced in a creek full of carp has evidently not read the story of the carp that milked the cows in another part of Wisconsin; or, probably, he does not believe in fish stories.

An Ultimatum to Clean
Milwaukee Journal: The Beloit Free Press, postoffice republican, might as well understand first as last that it cannot support Speaker Cannon, the standpat, and Congressman Cooper, the tariff reformer. One or the other is wrong.

Made Mistake in Bringing 'em
Milwaukee News: From the Uncle Ike organ it is learned that Mr. McGovern excited tremendous applause when "he hurled defiance in the teeth of the people's enemies." Served 'em right. They ought to have left their teeth at home.

Which Do Not "Listen Well"
La Crosse Leader-Press: According to G. E. Vandercreek, one of the ablest newspaper correspondents in the state, who is traveling with Senator La Follette, the audiences are interested in all the latter says except his arguments for Mr. Lenroot.

Oshkosh Northwestern Editor Safe.
Milwaukee Journal: Col. John Hicks telegraphs his son: "Legation O. K." Like Cassablanca the colonel stands on the burning deck of Chile, whence thousands have fled, and he's all right. His friends will be glad to know that he and the United States legation escaped.

Milton's Poultry Paper
Pond du Lac Commonwealth: "The Poultry Standard" is the latest addition to the Wisconsin press. "The Poultry Standard" is published by Will K. Davis of Milton, Wis., and is said to be the only English poultry journal published in Wisconsin.

Splendid Example—Splendid!
Oshkosh Northwestern: The Racine Times and a few more of the fair-minded democratic papers are still "whooping her up" for Lenroot. No wonder that Senator La Follette is inclined to say: "We have in Wisconsin a splendid example of the breaking away of party lines."

Surely an Alarming Prospect
Eau Claire Leader: When Bob La Follette got into the United States senate there was an earthquake in California, and now that he has taken the stump for Lenroot there is another earthquake in South America. If he should be elected to the presidency hell might break loose.

When Madison "Cut-us" Visit
Madison Democrat: Curious how virtuously indignant become some men over certain moral questions when their own visits away from home are a continuous delusion. Various Madison gentry who reside in a glass environment really might wisely sing very low. The newspapers regularly suppress more sensational news than they publish.

Hard Test for Credulity
Kansas City Journal: Some newspaper men are terrible liars. In writing up a cyclone on west one of them said it turned a well inside out, a cellar upside down, moved a town ship line, blew the staves out of a whiskey barrel and left nothing but the bungle, changed the day of the week, blew a mortgage off a farm, blew out the cracks of a fence and knocked the wind out of a politician.

The One Part Actor
Chicago Inter Ocean: Lewis Morrison, who died last week in New York, was known to the playgoers of the west of this generation as a one part actor. For something like twenty years he had been playing McPhisto in his own version of Goethe's "Faust," and he had consumed his attention almost entirely to the Pacific of the Mississippi valley.

Mr. Morrison, however, was not a one part actor in a strict use of the term. Years ago he gained considerable fame for his performance of Iago, and he was an exceptionally good Cassius. He played a variety of strong character parts in support of the best actors America has known. It was only because he succeeded in making "Faust" a popular play, and his characterization of McPhisto a tower of strength in the play that the combination was fastened upon him.

Lewis Morrison will be remembered as long as the stage endures and its history is written because he played one character so well that the public continued him in it for more than half of his professional life. But had he fitted from part to part, as a majority of actors prefer to do, he would probably have been forgotten in a decade.

GROCERYMEN MAKE BIG PICNIC PLANS

Fifty Prizes For Contests at Crystal Springs Tuesday-Parade in Morning.

Grocerymen of the city will close their stores all day next Tuesday and they with their clerks and friends will make money at Crystal Springs. The event will be a revival of the famous "Grocerymen's Picnic" but a program, different than any ever arranged before, has been prepared. In the morning at 9:30 there will be a parade, headed by the Imperial band. At ten o'clock the first boat leaves and another follows every half hour throughout the day. At the park the program will be in charge of J. E. Carle, master of ceremonies. There will be a ball game between the grocers and their clerks at eleven in the morning and in the afternoon, commencing at one-thirty, there is to be a carnival of games—foot races, potato races, peanut races, tub races, sack races, three-legged races, races of any and all descriptions, a tug of war, etc. For all these there will be fifty prizes, cash, etc., having been contributed. At four o'clock there is to be a water carnival and all the launch owners or operators in the city are invited to take part. A handsome silver loving cup has been hung up for the most prettily decorated boat entered. The arrangements have been made by a committee of grocers as follows: Walter Taylor, chairman; Edward Bauman, John Nolan, Allie Lutz and Ed. Winslow.

LOCAL HOTEL MEN HAVE A GOOD TIME

John F. Sweeney and William Squires Returned Last Evening From Convention at Madison.

William Squires, manager of the Hotel Myers, and Landlord John F. Sweeney of the Grand Hotel returned last evening from Madison where they attended the tenth annual convention of the Wisconsin Hotel association which has been in session for three days past and was attended by over 150 of the Badger state hoteliers. Even on the lakes the heat was something terrific last Wednesday, according to Mr. Squires.

The place of the next meeting was left to the executive committee. Several of the larger cities are after it. Most of the time yesterday was devoted to entertainment, consisting of lake excursions, dancing, band concerts, and luncheons in the woods. All of the visitors were loud in their praise of the Madison hotel men when the gathering finally broke up. The banquet at the Park hotel lasted until an early hour Thursday morning. Manager, Sovereign of the Hotel Patis, Milwaukee, retiring president, made a happy toastmaster. Responses were made by E. F. Bunn, manager of the Park hotel; John Groves, president of the Madison Forty Thousand club; former Ald. Frank Smith, Madison; Chief of Police H. C. Baker, Madison, and others. Secretary H. O. Kietzsch of Milwaukee read several telegrams of well wishes from a number who were unable to be present. He also interrupted one of the toasts to read a number of clever "take messages" purporting to be from employers and relatives of the guests. One of these was directed to John F. Sweeney of this city.

SHAKESPEARE ON A VERY WARM EVENING

Attracted a Very Fair-Sized Audience to the Myers Theatre—William Owen in "Romeo and Juliet."

That the Shakespearean plays have not lost their appeal for Janesville people was evidenced by the very good attendance at the presentation of "Romeo and Juliet" by William Owen and his capable company at the Myers theatre last evening. Oddly enough the gallery was well filled. The "gods" snatched their tips during one or two of the intense love scenes, but otherwise gave the production their respectful attention and hearty applause. When the fact is taken into consideration that this is the company's first week on the road the offering as a whole, as well as the individual work, is pleasing and praiseworthy. Mr. Owen as "Romeo" at times allowed himself to fall into a sort of sing-song form of delivery in the balcony scene which failed to convey the feeling and sincerity expected of him and contracted oddly enough with his impetuous attempts to scale the wall, but his delineation in its entirety was much more than satisfactory. Miss Margaret Morrison played "Juliet" with admirable dignity, grace and restraint, and the gentle but worldly-wise "Friar Lawrence" of J. W. McConnell was a real human being in the picture. Harrington Parr's "Mercutio" was so well done that his untimely taking off brought real regret, and Allan Leiber made an excellent "Tybalt." J. Williams McConnell did not make the most of his opportunity as "Peter" and Miss May Keough sometimes forgot her squeaky voice as the old nurse, but both were quite acceptable. During one of the intermissions the rendition of a waltz from "The Empire" by Prof. Lake's orchestra was vigorously applauded. Mr. Owen and his company will return to Janesville to play "Hamlet" later in the season.

DID STENSLAND PAY JANESVILLE A CALL?

Well Dressed Strangers Wearing Much Jewelry Begged for Food at Bogardus Home on Linn Street.

Wednesday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock two men called at the home of Joseph Bogardus on Linn street and asked for something to eat. This circumstance, in itself, is of no great significance, but the fact that the pair wore tailor-made suits of black and had their fingers decorated with costly rings suggests the unusual. At first sight Mrs. Bogardus thought the man who rapped at the door to be her grandson, William Burger, and told him to come in, but the man was not forward and seemed to be a person of good breeding. He merely said they had not had anything to eat for some time and when given some bread and butter with some meat in a small bundle he thanked her in the most gentlemanly manner, both for himself as well as his friend, who stood on the walk. Both men were about thirty-five years of age and smooth shaven, one weighing about 175 pounds while the other was shorter and of a heavier build. They were last seen running down South Linn street.

Mrs. F. A. Bennett & Co. Doing a Large Monument Business.

The selection of a monument, shaft or headstone is all too often made on the spur of the moment—in haste at a time when grief has caused a disregard of usual business sense. Moreover, the general public is naturally unfamiliar with the different grades of granite and their lasting qualities. You are entitled to know what you are getting in stone quality. You are entitled to the best designs and best workmanship and all at the lowest possible price. Mrs. F. A. Bennett & Co. enjoy an enviable reputation for selling only the best grades of granite, including the dark red Wausau, direct from the quarry, not boulder stock picked up on the hills of Marathon county by a cheap wholesale dealer, who places it here and there through the country among dealers who attempt to palm it off as the best grade red Wausau granite. Bear in mind that "the best is none too good and is always the cheapest." The firm's business is increasing because they are selling the best grade of goods at reasonable prices, backed up by the very finest workmanship that money can hire. Mr. Freeborn is acknowledged to be the most expert workman in this part of the state, and his work is always artistic and pleasing. This firm has over 35 jobs now on the floor and recently placed in Mt. Olivet large monuments for Austin & Spradling and Mr. Parish.

From now until Jan. 1st Mrs. F. A. Bennett & Co. will give 10 per cent discount on all work in order to get ready for a large shipment recently purchased. It will pay you to see their stock before buying.

Ten Thousand Dollars' Worth of Stock can be purchased in the North Western Lead and Zinc Co. at par value of $1 per share. Money wanted to build roaster. CHAPTER XII
IN SUSPENSE

During the afternoon Felix Chaudron received this prompt and characteristic message:

Mr. Felix Chaudron, New Orleans, La. Arrive 12:35. Meet me at the station. J. B. BALFOUR.

Even in a telegram one-half the economical allowance of words was quite sufficient for Joe.

At 12:10 Chaudron hurried into the waiting-room at the station. Thirty minutes later, Mr. Balfour, the station master answered his inquiry as to the train.

"The 12:35 train," he replied, "is the only one that will get you to New Orleans in time. It leaves at 12:35 and arrives at 1:15. It is a fast train and will get you there in good time."

Joe Balfour listened in stolid amazement—dry-as-dust, matter-of-fact amazement. He was clever enough at catching a legal proposition, but somehow he did not get this.

"Wait a minute, Felix," he told me that all over again; I don't tell me to get it into my head."

"I couldn't either, at first—it took me a long time. I don't believe I am certain about it now; it seems so strange for such a thing to happen right here at home, to people you know."

He sipped his coffee slowly; Joe's coffee got cold.

Chaudron went on and gave in detail every incident that had transpired from the moment he entered the Hotel Louis le Grande—everything that Anita had told him, everything that the police had learned. It did not take long; there was so very little of it.

"Now, you know all that anybody knows," he said, finally, and set down his cup.

Joe did not move; his face did not light up with comprehension. "But I don't know a thing," he said.

"Neither do I—neither does anybody."

"But the police? the detectives?"

"Not a thing. Except for what those two girls say we have not been able to find a solitary trace of Mrs. Ashton since she set foot in New Orleans. Her trunk came to-day, but the bag that she had last night has disappeared. We can't even prove that she ever reached the city—except by the young ladies. Her trunk is standing down there in that hotel right now. It's the only tangible evidence we have—standing there like a gravestone. Kind of gruesome, makes a fellow shiver to look at it."

"Where is that hotel?" Joe asked.

"What sort of a place is it? I never heard of it."

"Down on Valois street, just below Esplanade. It is not a hotel at all, merely an apartment house; they rent rooms to carnival visitors. People go down there because it is so quaint and old-fashioned—lots of antique furniture and curios, all that sort of thing."

Joe thought a long time; he wanted to ask a question, but dared not. In spite of himself he kept thinking of Duke's pale and haggard face, and the intense hate with which he said: "I wish that old woman were in hell, and I had the receipt for her."

After awhile he did ask hesitatingly: "Do you think she has been murdered?"

"That seems hardly possible; there was no reason for anybody to kill her. If she had been killed, there would have been some sign of it, somewhere. But she couldn't have got up in the night and strayed away by her baggage would be there. Bless if I can think of anything that she might possibly have done. We can't seem to get a start on it—can't catch hold of it anywhere. The two girls don't agree as to where they left her; neither one is certain, yet they both are sure that she went to that house and went to bed in a room which they describe perfectly. But, as I told you, there is not a room in the house answering to their description."

Joe may have been slow about some matters, but he was thorough; and in trying his cases he never left an inch of ground unexplored behind him.

He leaned forward and asked question after question—inclusive, pointed, direct questions. When Chaudron had answered them as best he could, Joe settled back, dug his hands deep into his pockets, and thought.

"Come, Joe," Chaudron said, rising to his feet, "there's no use sitting here; we've got to do something. Let's go home and get a couple of hours' sleep before breakfast."

"I'm not a bit sleepy."

"Yes, you are, you look half dead. We can do nothing to-night; the detectives are at work, and Vance is with them. He caught a little nap this afternoon."

When Chaudron turned his night-key in the lock at home and opened the hall door very softly, the apparition of Anita startled him.

"Oh, it's you!" he exclaimed. "Has there been any news?"

"No. Alice is asleep, the slightest sound wakes her—she hears the telephone in her sleep. I'm so glad you came," she went on, turning to Joe: "we needed you, and I knew you would come."

"Yes," he answered simply, "I was glad to come." In some way, the first moment that he had met her, this homesick girl wearying for her mountain, Anita had crept straight to the coziest corner of his unselfish heart.

"Mr. Chaudron has told you," she questioned with those big violet eyes which looked all the deeper and clearer in the dim light.

"Yes," he answered again.

"Then you must sit up—you look very tired. Your room is ready. Mrs. Chaudron is with Alice. Good night."

"And you?" Chaudron asked.

"I must listen for the telephone; I promised Alice."

Neither of the men demurred. There was something very compelling about this calm, competent girl who fell so quickly into the ways of the house, and did what was necessary in an emergency.

"Come, Joe," said Chaudron, and led the way upstairs.

WHAT THE NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY STANDS FOR

—The scientific, reconstructed baking industry, whereby the goodness and nutrition of Biscuit and Crackers have been marvelously enhanced.

—The new method of protection by which all dust, dirt and moisture are completely excluded from the package and the freshness and goodness of its contents are carefully preserved.

This is the trade mark which appears in red and white on each end of the package as an absolute pledge both of the quality of the baking and the purity of the packing.

For example by Graham Crackers—so different from the ordinary Graham crackers—different in baking—different in flavor—different in packing. More palatable—more satisfying—more nutritious. Made of the purest Graham flour and baked in a manner understood only by the National Biscuit Company.

Looking Ahead.

You may not be READY to buy just yet, but you may be interested in learning that when you are READY we are READY.

Large shipments of NEW FALL and WINTER GOODS have been and are being daily received; goods bought months ago from manufacturers and made especially for us—CHOICE THINGS, EXCEPTIONAL VALUES that we bought at the CLOSEST PRICES; MERCHANDISE that we could not get if we had waited till now to buy it. TO BUY RIGHT is one of the greatest problems a merchant faces. ONLY YEARS of experience can teach one how to BUY RIGHT. Many a man never learns the lesson of RIGHT BUYING. There are many things about any business that the general public do not know or care about.

Quality is a very important thing to consider. "WE KEEP THE QUALITY UP." Price is next to quality, and the public soon let a merchant know if his prices are too high.
